Sipping on Some Spritz

Eating and drinking healthy is the goal of many shoppers, both younger and older, and products that help them maintain their resolutions long past January are always a sight for sore eyes. After 16 years in the industry, i-Drink created the DrinkMate-Spritzer that helps consumers create healthy drinks by allowing users to carbonate drinks from water, juices, tea and more. The eco-friendly design provides a guilt-free way to avoid sugary sodas and can carbonate with just the pull of a trigger. —T.L.
